JOYS AND CONCERNS

- Melissa Moser met with her doctors in Iowa City this week. The Gallium scan showed the existing tumor grew again. It also showed that the previously questionable fuzzy area is indeed a small tumor, and there are two new tumors. Nothing has spread outside the liver at this point, so that is good. They are leaning on two different options - one being liver surgery and the other is the prrt-y90 trial. Both have their ups and downs. The doctors will consult for a combined recommendation. Melissa meets with Sioux Falls oncology Monday for regular treatment and discussion going forward. Action on either option would hopefully begin in 3-4 weeks. Keep the Mosers in your prayers.
- Kendra Van Essen is home from the hospital. Heath and Amber are so thankful for all the prayers, cards, visits, gas cards and money. Kendra is in need of being on 24hour feeds. They are up a few times a night and, with the shortage of nurses, they are busy with her all the time. The Van Essen's would appreciate meals brought in for their family. If you are interested in bringing a meal, contact Mindi Skiles at skiles49@hotmail.com or 605-759-5158. They are grateful for the support while they get into a routine with this new feeding adventure. Keep the Van Essen's in your prayers.
- Amy & Kenny Scholten's mother, Kathy Van Anken, remains at home on hospice care. Keep the Van Anken and Scholten families in your prayers.
- Dawn & Paul Van Beek's mother, Karen Calsbeek, has moved to her own home on hospice care. Pray for the Calsbeek and Van Beek families.
- Continue to pray for Ron Zylstra and Merle Tilstra as they undergo treatment for cancer.
- Pray for those who have been displaced or suffered losses due to flooding this spring.
